< How to Collect Viable Evidence

When deciding to build a case and safety get out of an abusive relationship by going to court, there are a few things to check first before collecting any evidence:

- Did anyone else see it? Can someone corroborate their account of the abuse?
- Is there a safe way to record it? Can you record without you being at risk?
- Are you being tracked? Can your abuser see what you are seeing or sending?
- Can you use phone safely? Don't pile up the evidence, forward to trusted friend, family, or lawyer.
